

Q&A SESSION Sample Questions for Colin Ryan

Because the subject of money is so often treated as taboo, few are comfortable talking about it openly or admitting what they don't know. These sample questions can set your audience up for a lively and engaged Q&A session with Colin.

What is the most common thing people say when they find out what you do?

Have you ever learned something about money the hard way?

As a kid, did your family or friends ever talk about money?

What was your first job, and what is a skill you learned from it you still use today?

What was your first car, and what did it teach you about money?

What bad money decisions have you seen?

What bad money decisions have you made?

What is something about money you wish you had learned sooner?

What is an embarrassing moment you've had around money?

What's something you spent too much money on, only to discover it didn't remain as exciting?

What is something your parents used to say to you about money?

What is a situation where money let you do something you couldn't have done without it?